

SNA seeks support from international associations against the air collapse bill

SNA has initiated a mobilization with international entities against the air collapse bill (PL 539/2024), which authorizes foreign companies to operate domestic flights in Brazil with foreign crews.

SNA reinforces that the proposal may set a precedent for the precarization of labor relations and bring impacts to operational safety worldwide.

Ifalpa (International Federation of Air Line Pilots' Associations) has already expressed support for SNA's mobilization and called on affiliated associations to take a stand in defense of operational safety and the sustainability of civil aviation.
